

Students' and Trainees' Association of the Michigan Psychoanalytic Society

Please join us for our Spring SATA Program

Difficult Cases: How Does Psychoanalytic Listening Help?

*Case Presentation by: Thomas Huber, Ph. D. Candidate
University of Detroit, Mercy*

- Please join our open discussion about cases that test our clinical skills.
- Plus, help plan topics for next year's SATA programs

*April 26, 2008
2 to 4 pm*

Michigan Psychoanalytic Institute and Society Building
Farmington Hills Office, 32841 Middlebelt Road, Suite 411,
Farmington Hills MI 48334

Mr. Huber will present clinical material from a case he saw briefly where a patient had psychogenic blindness. We will discuss what psychoanalytic theory can contribute to understanding and working with patients with personality difficulties.

For further information on this or any other SATA program, please contact Susan Cutler, Ph.D., SATA Coordinator, 734-996-3745, or Rich Marcolini, M. D., SATA Co-coordinator 586-498-9933